

ARE YOU WATCHING YOUR CHILD SURFING THE NET?

While the internet has done wonders in modern day technological advancement and progress, it has also opened a volley of repugnant and unscrupulous avenues that has caused untold misery in peoples' lives. Pornography, among the other evils of society, has increasingly become popular with the younger generation; more especially, with the easy access and freely available ever-enticing Internet pornographic material.

The harmful effects of pornographic filth are indeed disastrous. Not only is pornography forbidden in Islam, it is an insult to humanity and a danger to individuals involved in it due to its addictive nature and often lamentable after effects.

A recent study found that:

- the average age of first time internet exposure to pornography is 11 years.
- the primary pornography consumer group is boys between the ages of 12 and 17.
- "porn" is the most searched word under 'Google Search' in South Africa.
- pornographers disguise sites (commonly known as "stealth" sites) enticing children with popular brand names, like Disney, Barbie, etc.

Nabi ﷺ stated: "The eyes commit adultery, the tongue commits adultery, the hands commit adultery, the feet commit adultery and then the private parts confirm it or deny it." (Ahmad)

Respected parents, most certainly you love your children dearly. Surely you care for them. They are directly under your care, a priceless Amaanat (Trust) for which you shall be answerable to Allah. Hence, your supervision of your children's online activities is absolutely essential.
